Chief Investment Officer: How Endowments Are Navigating Private Equity Backlogs

A recent article from Chief Investment Officer covered how private equity backlogs and slow exit volumes are impacting liquidity-constrained nonprofits. Anne Duggan, Managing Director, Client CIO Group, shared why endowments are responding to this challenge by modifying manager lineups and asset allocations. TIFF Deputy CIO, Head of Private Markets, Brendon Parry, was also quoted, noting that investors have not shied away from the private equity asset class as a whole; they have, however, become more aware that finding the right manager matters more than ever.

Read the full article here

The materials are being provided for informational purposes only and constitute neither an offer to sell nor a solicitation of an offer to buy securities. These materials also do not constitute an offer or advertisement of TIFF's investment advisory services or investment, legal or tax advice. Opinions expressed herein are those of TIFF and are not a recommendation to buy or sell any securities.

These materials may contain forward-looking statements relating to future events. In some cases, you can identify forward-looking statements by terminology such as "may," "will," "should," "expect," "plan," "intend," "anticipate," "believe," "estimate," "predict," "potential," or "continue," the negative of such terms or other comparable terminology. Although TIFF believes the expectations reflected in the forward-looking statements are reasonable, future results cannot be guaranteed.

TIFF Investment Management

November 4, 2026

Copyright © 2026 TIFF Advisory Services, LLC. All rights reserved. May not be reproduced or distributed without permission.

Chief Investment Officer: How Endowments Are Navigating Private Equity Backlogs

A recent article from Chief Investment Officer covered how private equity backlogs and slow exit volumes are impacting liquidity-constrained nonprofits. Anne Duggan, Managing Director, Client CIO Group, shared why endowments are responding to this challenge by modifying manager lineups and asset allocations. TIFF Deputy CIO, Head of Private Markets, Brendon Parry, was also quoted, noting that investors have not shied away from the private equity asset class as a whole; they have, however, become more aware that finding the right manager matters more than ever.

Read the full article here

The materials are being provided for informational purposes only and constitute neither an offer to sell nor a solicitation of an offer to buy securities. These materials also do not constitute an offer or advertisement of TIFF's investment advisory services or investment, legal or tax advice. Opinions expressed herein are those of TIFF and are not a recommendation to buy or sell any securities.

These materials may contain forward-looking statements relating to future events. In some cases, you can identify forward-looking statements by terminology such as "may," "will," "should," "expect," "plan," "intend," "anticipate," "believe," "estimate," "predict," "potential," or "continue," the negative of such terms or other comparable terminology. Although TIFF believes the expectations reflected in the forward-looking statements are reasonable, future results cannot be guaranteed.

TIFF Investment Management

November 4, 2026

Copyright © 2026 TIFF Advisory Services, LLC. All rights reserved. May not be reproduced or distributed without permission.

Chief Investment Officer: How Endowments Are Navigating Private Equity Backlogs

A recent article from Chief Investment Officer covered how private equity backlogs and slow exit volumes are impacting liquidity-constrained nonprofits. Anne Duggan, Managing Director, Client CIO Group, shared why endowments are responding to this challenge by modifying manager lineups and asset allocations. TIFF Deputy CIO, Head of Private Markets, Brendon Parry, was also quoted, noting that investors have not shied away from the private equity asset class as a whole; they have, however, become more aware that finding the right manager matters more than ever.

Read the full article here

The materials are being provided for informational purposes only and constitute neither an offer to sell nor a solicitation of an offer to buy securities. These materials also do not constitute an offer or advertisement of TIFF's investment advisory services or investment, legal or tax advice. Opinions expressed herein are those of TIFF and are not a recommendation to buy or sell any securities.

These materials may contain forward-looking statements relating to future events. In some cases, you can identify forward-looking statements by terminology such as "may," "will," "should," "expect," "plan," "intend," "anticipate," "believe," "estimate," "predict," "potential," or "continue," the negative of such terms or other comparable terminology. Although TIFF believes the expectations reflected in the forward-looking statements are reasonable, future results cannot be guaranteed.

TIFF Investment Management

November 4, 2026

Copyright © 2026 TIFF Advisory Services, LLC. All rights reserved. May not be reproduced or distributed without permission.

Chief Investment Officer: How Endowments Are Navigating Private Equity Backlogs

A recent article from Chief Investment Officer covered how private equity backlogs and slow exit volumes are impacting liquidity-constrained nonprofits. Anne Duggan, Managing Director, Client CIO Group, shared why endowments are responding to this challenge by modifying manager lineups and asset allocations. TIFF Deputy CIO, Head of Private Markets, Brendon Parry, was also quoted, noting that investors have not shied away from the private equity asset class as a whole; they have, however, become more aware that finding the right manager matters more than ever.

Read the full article here

The materials are being provided for informational purposes only and constitute neither an offer to sell nor a solicitation of an offer to buy securities. These materials also do not constitute an offer or advertisement of TIFF's investment advisory services or investment, legal or tax advice. Opinions expressed herein are those of TIFF and are not a recommendation to buy or sell any securities.

These materials may contain forward-looking statements relating to future events. In some cases, you can identify forward-looking statements by terminology such as "may," "will," "should," "expect," "plan," "intend," "anticipate," "believe," "estimate," "predict," "potential," or "continue," the negative of such terms or other comparable terminology. Although TIFF believes the expectations reflected in the forward-looking statements are reasonable, future results cannot be guaranteed.

TIFF Investment Management

November 4, 2026

Copyright © 2026 TIFF Advisory Services, LLC. All rights reserved. May not be reproduced or distributed without permission.

Chief Investment Officer: How Endowments Are Navigating Private Equity Backlogs

A recent article from Chief Investment Officer covered how private equity backlogs and slow exit volumes are impacting liquidity-constrained nonprofits. Anne Duggan, Managing Director, Client CIO Group, shared why endowments are responding to this challenge by modifying manager lineups and asset allocations. TIFF Deputy CIO, Head of Private Markets, Brendon Parry, was also quoted, noting that investors have not shied away from the private equity asset class as a whole; they have, however, become more aware that finding the right manager matters more than ever.

Read the full article here

The materials are being provided for informational purposes only and constitute neither an offer to sell nor a solicitation of an offer to buy securities. These materials also do not constitute an offer or advertisement of TIFF's investment advisory services or investment, legal or tax advice. Opinions expressed herein are those of TIFF and are not a recommendation to buy or sell any securities.

These materials may contain forward-looking statements relating to future events. In some cases, you can identify forward-looking statements by terminology such as "may," "will," "should," "expect," "plan," "intend," "anticipate," "believe," "estimate," "predict," "potential," or "continue," the negative of such terms or other comparable terminology. Although TIFF believes the expectations reflected in the forward-looking statements are reasonable, future results cannot be guaranteed.

TIFF Investment Management

November 4, 2026

Copyright © 2026 TIFF Advisory Services, LLC. All rights reserved. May not be reproduced or distributed without permission.