TIFF Investment Management Earns B Corp™ Certification

Independent investment firm focused on OCIO and private markets solutions for nonprofits joins global community focused on driving business as a source for good.

Radnor, Pa. – October 21, 2025 – TIFF Investment Management, an independent, employee-owned investment firm specializing in OCIO and private markets solutions for mission-driven organizations and sophisticated investors, proudly announces it is now a Certified B Corporation™ (B Corp). This designation is reserved for businesses that meet high standards of verified performance, accountability, and transparency on factors measured across items such as employee benefits and charitable giving.

With an enduring focus on helping institutions achieve impact, TIFF was founded in 1991 as a cooperative-style organization where nonprofit foundations lacking sufficient internal resources could access the innovative investment approaches utilized by large foundations, universities, and other endowments. This experience has given TIFF a keen understanding of how investment strategy can support an organization's philanthropic goals, enabling them to achieve long-term growth.

Today, TIFF partners with endowments, foundations, RIAs, family offices, and other institutional organizations seeking comprehensive OCIO services and access to specialized strategies in private equity, venture capital, and hedge funds. As an independent, employee-owned firm organized as a public benefit company, TIFF delivers partnership to clients with a strong commitment to service and investment performance. TIFF's commitment to service is reflected through its team members' active involvement in various charitable endeavors.

"We are honored to join the esteemed network of B Corps, leading a global movement for an inclusive, equitable, and regenerative economy," said Kane Brenan, CEO, TIFF Investment Management. "Business for good is central to our founding mission and extends to our approach in all we do for our clients, helping them advance their objectives with custom portfolio construction and proven investment strategies."

B Lab™, a nonprofit transforming the global economy to benefit all people, communities, and the planet, evaluated TIFF in five key areas of impact—Governance, Workers, Environment, Community, and Customers—and reviewed TIFF's legal framework to ensure it considers all stakeholders. All B Corps post their assessment score to B Lab Global's website for complete transparency. See TIFF's profile here.

"B Corps distinguish themselves from other companies with their commitment to driving a positive impact on society and the environment—a commitment TIFF Investment Management has clearly demonstrated since its founding," said Max Hayes, Growth Manager, B Lab U.S. & Canada. "We are thrilled to have TIFF join our growing global network of organizations using business as a source for good, and we look forward to its contributions to our common mission."
