

TIFF Investment Management

The idea behind TIFF's founding in 1991 was as simple as it was seminal — to create a cooperative-style organization where all nonprofit institutions could access innovative investment techniques like those of large foundations and universities. Since its founding, TIFF has remained true to its mission, serving as a nonprofit investment specialist and an outsourced chief investment officer (OCIO) solely for charitable institutions.

As a pioneer among OCIO firms, TIFF guides the investment strategies for nonprofits such as cultural/historical, educational, and healthcare-related institutions; community and private foundations; and specific public benefit organizations. TIFF builds solutions by leveraging a combination of the following investment offerings: comprehensive multi-asset class portfolios, sustainable investments, specialized strategies such as private investments, and passive strategies.

TIFF is currently celebrating our 30th anniversary. Visit www.tiff.org to learn more about our organization and our 30th milestone.
